About The Game

A Thrilling Demon Hunter *SIN*ulation

Thank you for joining us today as we preach about the deeds of the Padre – a demon hunting priest, who has been saving the souls of countless poor fellows from the temptation of sin and err... more physical manifestations of evil. Let us jump into his shoes for a moment.

Imagine being on a trail of a lost cardinal. You arrive at an old mansion to rest from the difficulties of travel only to discover a larger supernatural power at play. You are left alone in the dreary house, void of the tools of trade you usually take on your godly missions. You need to survive and unravel the mysteries hidden within the mansion but also those deep within your soul...

The Padre is a retro stylised 3D horror adventure game tapping deep into the roots of classic horror games. The dark and striking atmosphere is often cut by the wicked humour of the always witty Padre. You will need to use your brains to solve challenging puzzles, as well as your brawns to fend off monsters, all at the same time while you try to unravel the mysteries of the mansion, yourself and the eternal fight between good and evil. Be weary though, if you fail enough times it's a permanent GAME OVER for you!

About the Creators

Shotgun with Glitters is a small, independent team of game enthusiasts of varying backgrounds, and skills of many fields. Our common drive is to create diverse and entrancing game-worlds, providing a one-of-a-kind experience - just like the games we enjoyed playing as kids. Creative thinking is integral in our studio. We love the weirdest ideas, cling on to those eccentric enough and shape them until they form a coherent plan. We believe that success lies in loving what you do day-by-day and we appreciate that we don't merely have a job to do, but a passion to pursue.
